Something felt way, way off.
I feel... different.
And then I see...
I don't know what this is because I have a face like this?!
I have to stay calm and find out what this is
I have to calm down to see if the green leaves my face
It only seems to happen to me when I'm nervous.
So I go to the computer to find out what this was.
So I take my computer and started looking for information.
Here it says that the superpower will pass one day but I still don't know what is the superpower!
It also says that I only turn green the first time I transform, the others don't.
So I went to change to go out to find out what power I had.
And he began to test superpowers such as speed....
I tried the strength, but nothing until...jump and...

OMG I'm flaying
!!!
And now what do I do?
I could go out to help people who need it.come let's see if someone needs me
And I start flying looks like she needs help
this is heavy
Sorry,can i help you?
Yes,please
